

Inspiring an African-American History Digital Renaissance

The journey of African-Americans in our nation is one of strength, resilience, and achievement. 306: African American History combines EverFi's technology and instructional design to bring stories to life in ways that were never previously possible. Through immersive, engaging digital media and learning simulations, students can discover individuals, historic events, texts, and themes from the past in vivid detail. 306 was developed in collaboration with one of the foremost scholars in the subject, who brings his subject-matter expertise to EverFi's technological and curriculum prowess.

The Learning Experience

Highly Engaging Content

306: African-American History features interactive maps, simulated interviews with key historical figures and interactive, digital versions of texts, speeches and letters.

Interactive Exercises

Content is organized into short vignettes, presented chronologically to offer a natural progression through the course. Teachers may also customize this order based on the needs of their curriculum. The course's capstone activity is a short reflection essay that invites students to apply the concepts they've learned.

Standards Mapping

306 addresses skills and proficiencies outlined in the Common Core Standards for Writing and Literacy in History/Social Studies. Content allows students to dig deeply into important historical texts, many of which are included in state standards for US History.

Getting Started

Teachers can get started after a 20-minute meeting with their local schools manager.

EDUCATION IS THAT WHOLE SYSTEM OF HUMAN TRAINING WITHIN AND WITHOUT THE SCHOOL HOUSE WALLS, WHICH MOLDS AND DEVELOPS MEN.

— W.E.B. Du Bois

Level: Grades 9-12

Length: 2.5-3 Hours

Topics Covered:

- Underground Railroad
- Frederick Douglass
- Madam CJ Walker
- Hiram Revels
- Phyllis Wheatley
- The Harlem Renaissance
- Althea Gibson
- Brown vs. Board of Education
- The Freedom Rides

EVERFI.COM

EverFi is the leading technology platform that teaches, assesses, and certifies students in critical skills. Our courses have impacted over seven million students.

Engaging Students in History

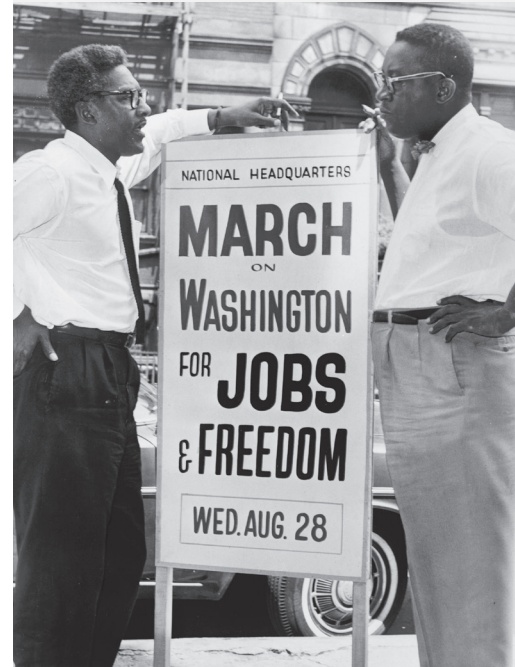

Exposing today's young people, and tomorrow's community leaders, to the empowering stories of the African-American community will help students draw inspiration from the grit and determination of these remarkable women and men who have risen above the challenges they faced. Today, we have the opportunity to revolutionize the way that African-American history is taught in schools across the country, using digital learning to capture the minds of our youth and help them draw inspiration from the empowering and diverse stories of the African-American journey.

What is 306?

From the Harlem artists collective "Group 306" to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s preferred room, number 306, in the Lorraine Motel in Memphis where he was assassinated in 1968, the term "306" represents themes of creativity, strength, grit, and determination that have characterized the African-American journey. EverFi is committed to reawakening that journey by transforming the way that African-American history is taught in schools today.

Program Benefits

- Powerful curriculum that will help your students engage and embrace the diversity of our past and bring it into the 21st Century.
- Built-in assessments that evaluate student progress, personalize the learning experience and allow teachers to easily access key performance metrics.
- Ability to revolutionize the way African-American History is presented to today's students.

In front of 170 W 130 St., March on Washington, l to r, Bayard Rustin, Deputy Director, and Cleveland Robinson, Chairman of Administrative Committee / World Telegram & Sun photo by O. Fernandez

WHATEVER
ACCOMPLISHMENTS
YOU MAKE, SOMEBODY HELPED YOU.

— Althea Gibson

3299 K St. NW
Suite 400
Washington DC, 20007

P 202 625 0011
info@everfi.com