

WOLF OF WALL STREET

INVESTING

Different investment vehicles can give you a bigger return depending on how much you are willing to risk.

Savings Account

A deposit account held at a bank that accrues interest over time

Money Market Account

A deposit account that pays interest based on the current interest rates in the money markets

Mutual Fund

An investment program that is professionally managed and trades in diversified stock holding

Bonds

Money loaned to a company that then pays you interest over time

Individual Stocks

Individual shares from a single company

Which Investments are the Riskiest?

